

*Through such means hath We originated every Dispensation of the divine Command as a Word from Ourselves.
Yea, We are proficient!*

Be expedient in accomplishing that, press on, press on, press on, press on, for the Almighty surpasseth all who endeavor.

It is the ultimate Proof, succeeding the former Proof, which is the Criterion.

The sun of this Phrase was in His heart of hearts which today gleameth forth in the reflection of those who express it. Wherefore doth it return unto Him through His subsequent appearance which is the appearance of the Point of the Bayán, but was not so at first, for during His first appearance the Tree of Intimate Communion had not been raised within all strata of society.

There is no doubt that that these Holy Lights hath resigned Themselves to the good pleasure of the Almighty before 'all things', and this is the supreme exaltation above every exaltation, and the most sublime glory above every sublimity.

The Tenth Báb of the First Váhid:

Regardeth the statement that Músa ibn Ja'far, upon Him be peace, hath returned to the phenomenal realm unto all who were faithfully awaiting Him and otherwise.
